

College of Humanities
School of Education
Dean's Seminar Series: Decolonising Teacher Education (20 November 2017)
Programme Director: Professor Suriamurthee Maistry

Time	Titles	Addressee	Chairperson
08:30	Morning tea
09:00	Welcome on behalf of the College	Professor Stephen Mutula Deputy Vice Chancellor and Head of College	Programme Director
09:15	Welcome on behalf of the School and introduction of the Dean's Seminar Series	Professor Thabo Msibi Dean and Head of School	Programme Director
09:30	What does it mean to decolonise and why do higher education institutions need to decolonise	Professor Loretta Feris Deputy Vice-Chancellor: Transformation University of Cape Town	Professor Wayne Hugo
10:30	Tea
11:00	A reflexive journey of encounter, rethinking and decolonization: A case of the Faculty of Education at Nelson Mandela	Dr Muki Moeng Executive Dean, Faculty of Education Nelson Mandela University	Professor Nontokozo Mashiya
12:00	Decolonising methodology: creativity in research method [activity]	Professor Kathleen Pithouse-Morgan, Professor Daisy Pillay; Dr Inba Naicker & Dr Lungile Masinga	Dr Tami Chirikure
13:00	Lunch
13:45	Positioning isiXhosa for English/Afrikaans language speakers in Foundation phase teacher preparation programme	Professor Nokhanyo Mayaba Director of School Nelson Mandela University	Professor Thabisile Buthelezi
14:45	Where to from now? A critical response Plenary Discussion	Professor Vitallis Chikoko & Professor Carol Bertram [10 minutes response each] Professors, School of Education	Professor Nyna Amin & Ms Nomkhosi Nzimande
16:00	Vote of thanks	Dr Bheki Khoza Academic Leader for Research	Programme Director