OUR WORLD IS CHANGING... SHOULDN'T YOU?

isiZulu Intermediate

Programme overview & objectives:

isiZulu is the language that is spoken by millions of people in KwaZulu-Natal. Thus, this short course attempts to bridge the gap that exists in the workplace between isiZulu language speakers and non-isiZulu language speakers. The course is thus meant to assist educators, directors, managers etc. to be able to communicate well with students, colleagues and employees. Good communication enhances good relationships – which may lead to better productivity.

This short course will also be available to delegates who have completed a basic isiZulu programme and require further language skills.

How you will benefit. You will learn to:

- Acquire more in depth knowledge and understanding of the isiZulu language
- Acquire the necessary information needed to communicate with isiZulu speakers
- Achieve an appropriate level of language proficiency in isiZulu
- Develop reading and comprehension through reading short passages
- Effectively pronounce Zulu words including Zulu people's names and surnames
- Engage with others in various activities through role playing

Key focus areas:

- Revision of some work done at basic level
- Basic phrases and sentences which involves present, past and future tense
- Various isiZulu nouns and their subject and object links
- Personal possessives
- Various grammatical constructs such as the use of the copula (describing oneself)
- Pronunciation of various sounds
- Click sounds
- Reading of short passages and testing comprehension
- Translating short sentences from Zulu to English and vice versa
