

Allan Gray internship

Want to spend your vacation solving exciting problems, learning from some of the greatest minds in the business world and giving your future career a jump-start? The Allan Gray internship is upon us and we're looking for the brightest, most inspired and eager minds from campuses around South Africa to help us on exciting projects that will both challenge your abilities and allow you to do work that stands the chance of making a real difference.

The internship will include an opportunity to solve some interesting problems facing our business, accommodation for the entire period of stay (if from out of Cape Town), free lunches, great learning and great coffee – oh, and did we mention the free lunches? This is an opportunity of a lifetime that you don't want to miss out on.

Main responsibility

Depending on skills and qualifications, the successful interns will be placed in suitable business areas to solve different challenges in each, with an opportunity to get exposure to the business, be mentored by others and present their results to senior management at Allan Gray.

The business areas available include:

- Product Development
- Retail Client Services
- Retail Operations
- Strategic Markets
- Institutional Client Services

Qualifications

Currently completing a Bachelor's Degree – specialisation includes, but is not limited to Commerce, Business Science, Mathematics, Statistics, Actuarial Science, etc.
Cumulative GPA of at least 65%.

Skills / competencies and experience

- Proven leadership
 - Problem-solving potential
- Preference will be given to final-year students, with some consideration to penultimate-year students as well.

Duration

24 June - 12 July 2019

Deadline for applications

30 April 2019