ABOUT THE SCHOLARSHIPS

A wide range of funding covering full fees and grants for living costs is available for future leaders, policy makers, and public servants who are committed to Africa's development. To be considered for the scholarship, you must demonstrate:

- A strong dedication to contributing to the transformation of Africa
- Commitment to making a substantial impact in the public sector
- A genuine aspiration to be actively involved in shaping a stable and inclusive future for Africa
- Exceptional academic merit and potential.

ABOUT THE MPP

The Master of Public Policy (MPP) is an intensive one-year graduate degree that offers a fully interactive and immersive approach to learning about public policy.

Guided by world-class faculty, you will learn how policy is made, implemented and evaluated, drawing lessons from diverse disciplines and sectors, and using real-world case studies to illustrate complex policy challenges.
